PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Some fans fill a room- Spoke completes it. With five sculpted blades that sweep in one fluid, uninterrupted arc and a motor housing that sits low and lean against the ceiling. This fan reads as architand tapered blade design aren't just aesthetic choices - they're aerodynamic ones, moving serious air with a whisper-quiet efficiency that disappears into the background the moment you stop thinking at the hub and where most fans treat the luminaire as an afterthought, Spoke frames it with a precision-detailed trim ring, giving the hub a jewel-like finish that holds its own even when using a cover.
